

Innovative Marine Notice of Privacy Rights

YIMCO, INC. (the parent corporation of Innovative Marine) is committed to protecting your best interests and personal information. To earn your trust and confidence, we strictly adhere to the Privacy Policy, Principles and Statement outlined below. We know you are cautious about how information is used and shared, and we appreciate your trust that we will do so respectfully and sensibly. By visiting our website, you are accepting the practices described in this notice.

If you have specific questions that are not answered by the material that we disclose here we will address your concerns by clicking on the following email address: E-mail info@innovative-marine.com.

This policy may be revised over time as new features are added to the website. Please check this site for information about revisions to our privacy policy.

What we do with information collected

YIMCO, INC. is the sole owner of the information collected at our websites. We will not sell, rent or trade your email address or personal information, if you give it to us. Please remember if you send any information by email, personal or otherwise, that email is not a secure form of communication and can be intercepted. We cannot guarantee that unauthorized third parties will never be able to defeat any security measures that are in place or use your personal information for improper purposes.

No personal information is automatically collected from visitors to our site. We may from time to time collect certain non-personal information about visitors to our site, as tracking certain operating information, like the browser you are using or the identity of your internet service provider (e.g., Yahoo, Google, etc.). We and our affiliates and related companies can use this information generally to enhance and refine Innovative Marine operations and product development and for internal and operating purposes. Other uses of this information may include internal review of the number of visitors to the site, but only in an aggregate and non-personally-identifiable form.

Our third party agents, subsidiaries, affiliates and related companies sometimes will have access to information collected on our site to fulfill Innovative Marine -related business objectives and purposes. We also have the right to use aggregated, anonymous data about our users as a group for our business purposes. Our website also may provide links to other third-party websites which are not under our control and are not covered by this policy. If you use the links, you do so at your own risk. We encourage you to review the privacy policies posted on these (and all) sites. We notify visitors of changes to our privacy policy by changing the effective date on this page.

We may store some information on our site visitors' computers, which is a "cookie". These cookies can be used to help us adjust the site to your preferences and interests. Your internet browser may offer ways to erase or block cookies, so refer to your browser's instructions for additional information on the availability of those features, if you are interested.

YIMCO, INC. will protect your personal information by using appropriate security safeguards. We restrict access to information to persons who need to know the information to provide products or services to you. We obtain personal information about you in order to service your business and enhance our services. Such information is collected using Contact Us forms, Event Registration forms, Webinar, Newsletter and Warranty Registration forms, data from either a YIMCO, INC. cookie or a cookie from a YIMCO, INC. service provider, or other communications that you send or provide to us.

These mechanisms allow you to ask specific questions of YIMCO, INC. or offer feedback, comments or suggestions about the product described therein. The information submitted enables YIMCO, INC. to respond to your inquiries, as appropriate, and obtain a measure of users' needs, interests and ideas for future website development and product interest. YIMCO, INC. limits the collection of personal information to that which is necessary for the purposes of providing the products and services you have requested and conducting our business efficiently.
